Medical Psychology and Communication

Psychology is a science about
Medical psychology is concerned with Medical psychology is a part of Psychological theories-schools include
Basic methods of psychology include
Which of the following is true for empathy
What should be done during empathetic listening
Iatropathogenesis is a term describing Countertransference is a term describing Transference is a term describing
Placebo effect is
Placebo
Nocebo
Primary disturbances of psychological functions are subject of
Which of the following subjects is/are part of applied psychology disciplines
According to psychoanalytic theory moral principles are part of Superego
“Id”
The essence of Oedipal complex is
The essence of Electra complex is Important psychometric characteristics of psychodiagnostic tests are
Which of the following tests is/are measuring performance intelligence?
Double linkage in communication
Perception belongs to Perception, thinking and memory belong to
Memory
Subliminal perception

Emotions, drives/instincts belong to Memory belongs to
Basic memory processes include
Memory traces/engrams are consolidated mainly Thinking belongs to
Basic operations of thinking include
Attention can be
Emotions include
Emotions belong to
Basic characteristics of consciousness include
Consciousness belongs to
Drives include
Drives and instincts belong to
Personality
Personality belongs to
Who of the following authors developed personality typology
Personality defense mechanisms
Personality defense mechanisms include
Personality defense mechanisms include
Personality defense mechanisms include
The term projection
The Hippocrates’ typology of personality includes the type of
The intelligence quotient (IQ) is a measure that
Lower emotions include
Higher emotions refer to
Somatic components of emotions include
Components of intelligence include
Human developmental stages include
Which of the following is a sign of a full-term newborn
“Defiant” behavior appearing for the first time in which developmental period
Psychophysiological (mind-body)relationship is Stress is a term describing Stressor is a term describing Frustration is a term describing Deprivation is a term describing
Conflict can be
Which of the following is considered to be psychosomatic disorder
Which of the following belongs to expressions of fear and anxiety
Meta-communication is a term describing
Which of the following are desirable characteristic of psychotherapist
A psychic crisis is characterized by
The essence of abreaction in psychotherapy is Pathopsychology is concerned with Aggravation is a term describing Dissimulation is a term describing Simulation is a term describing
General psychopathology is concerned with Among clinical expression of “hospitalization syndrome” in children is Compliance means
Adherence means
Which of the following symptoms is/are expression of burn-out syndrome
Factors determining verbal expression of an individual include
Which of the following is the characteristic of effective communication
To the assertive rights in communication belongs
Evaluation in communication means
Devaluation in communication means
Standardized medical interview is characterized by
During interview the doctor should prefer
During interview the doctor should avoid
Vigility
Lucidity
Idiognosis
Sleep
Unconsciousness
What kind of questions are used in clinical interview
Which of the terms are used for describing the doctor-patient relationship
What sort of doctor-patient relationship is characteristic for the concept of patient-centered approach
At the closing of clinical interview
Which of the following is defined as a reaction to dying
Which of the following is characteristic for assertive communication
Empathetic approach means that
Which of distance during communication is defined by proxemics
Which of the following are paralinguistic features
The term denotation means
Which of the following characteristics could be applied to experimental method
Thinking can be
Distribution of IQ values in population has character/shape of
Which of the following are characteristics of attention
The term ‘qualia’ means
Declarative memory is
Episodic memory is